KAHN PAID FOREIGN INCOME TAX IN 1930 BUT NONE AT HOME

PRACTICE SELLING STOCKS AT CLOSE OF YEAR IS ASSERTED GENERAL

BY NATHAN ROBERTSON
(Associated Press Staff Writer)
WASHINGTON, June 29.—Charles E. Mitchell and Percy A. Rockefeller were listed among individuals whose names were invited to share in profits from floating securities issued by Kuhn, Loeb and company.

Ferdinand Pecora, counsel, placed before the investigating committee a long list of prominent figures in the industrial world invited to participate in the profits.

The list was similar to the selected client lists of J. P. Morgan and company.

A while earlier, a government investigation to determine why an internal revenue bureau official changed the classification of an income tax-reducing stock sale by Kuhn from a "wash sale" to "an ordinary transaction on the exchange" was advocated by Pecora.

He made this suggestion after the committee had received testimony from Kuhn, senior partner of Kuhn, Loeb and company, giant New York banking house, that he had paid a foreign income tax in 1930—when he paid none in this country. Kuhn said the tax was $4,480 and he assumed it was paid in Great Britain.

In addition, the senate investigators were told that the government granted Kuhn an income tax deduction in 1930 on stock sales without knowledge that the securities were sold to this daughter, Mrs. Maud E. Marriott.

At the morning recess, Chairman Fletcher told newspapermen that the committee "may make some inquiry into the Roosevelt boom market." He added, however, it would not be done now.

During his testimony, Kuhn advocated repeal of the capital gains tax of the income tax law of 1926, saying that year-end sale of

Injunctions to Stop Beer Sale In San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO, June 29.—(P)—Mayor C. K. Quinn today served notice on all establishments selling 3.2 beer that after July 1 he will seek injunctions against them under the Dean Act. This, the mayor pointed out, would padlock such establishments for one year.

Mayor Quinn said his order is the outgrowth of a beer price war which resulted this week in two establishments which had cut the price of 3.2 to 20 cents a bottle being shot up.

"San Antonio will not be turned over to the racketeers," the mayor said.

TEXTILE WORKERS PROTEST MINIMUM WAGE SCALE AS TOO SMALL FOR NEW HAMPSHIRE

BY WILLIAM L. BEALE
(Associated Press Staff Writer)
WASHINGTON, June 29.—(P)—New Hampshire textile workers protested to the industrial relations administration today that the $11 weekly minimum wage provided for them in the code proposed to govern the industry is "unfair," and the 40 hours a week stipulated as a maximum "is a mite too high."

At the hearing in the department of commerce, attended by fewer than on the previous two days but still by many representatives of industry and labor to be affected by the new law, John L. Barr—representing the New Hampshire Federation of Labor—said he appeared at the request of Governor John G. Winne to represent the state's workers in textile mills.

Heavy Rain Over Wheat Belt Puts Bulls to Rout

CHICAGO, June 29.—(P)—Heavy rains over the spring wheat belt and in parts of Illinois and Iowa greatly dampened bullish sentiment in the grain pits today.

The market oscillated uncertainly much of the time, but the general trend was down.

Advances in wheat in the half hour of trading carried prices from 1-4 to 7-8 cent above yesterday's finish. The advance was attributed to unofficial crop reports from the northwest that rains had not benefited the heat and drought stricken crops.

ROSCOE ARBUCKLE DIED FROM HEART ATTACK LAST NIGHT

ROTUND COMEDIAN OF SILLY FILMS FOUND DEAD BY HIS WIFE

NEW YORK, June 29.—(P)—Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle, bulky comedian of the films, died early today of a heart attack that followed a celebration of the first anniversary of his third marriage. He was 45 years old.

The actor, who had been attempting a "comeback" from the blight that fell on his career as the result of the mysterious death of an actress during a gay party in 1921, died in his sleep in his suite in a midtown hotel.

His third wife, the former Adeline McPhail screen actress, discovered his death. After summoning the house physician, she became hysterical from grief. Physicians said Arbuckle died of angina pectoris.

Arbuckle completed a picture "Tumalo" yesterday at a Long Island studio. It was one of six he had recently done for Warner Brothers. After dinner last night, he went with his wife to the apartment of William Lahiff, restaurant proprietor, where a party was given in honor of the Arbuckles' anniversary.

After the party Arbuckle retired, apparently in fairly good health, despite recent attacks of a heart ailment. A few moments later, however, his wife called to him, received no answer and then discovered that he was dead.

Career Blighted. Arbuckle became known to millions the world over in the palmy days of pie-tossing comedy. He was reaping a fortune when in 1921 the death of Virginia Rappe, screen actress, followed a party in Arbuckle's suite in a San Francisco hotel. He was a thrice tried and finally acquitted in connection with the case.

The scandal cut short his career as a movie headliner. When, after his acquittal, it was reported that Arbuckle would again circulate freely, there were protests.

OFFICIAL OPINION AND RULING OF FEDERAL COURT IS AWAITED HERE

CITY officials and attorneys Thursday had not determined what course, any, would be taken by the city in the case of the Trinity and Brazos Valley railroad company for damages against the city in the sum of $25,25 which was decided in favor of the railroad yesterday by the United States fifth circuit court of appeals, New Orleans, when the decision of Federal District Judge Wilson was reversed.

The suit was originally brought in the U. S. district court, Northern Texas district, about 1920, and was not decided by Judge Wilson until several years later when he ruled in favor of the city. The railroad appealed the case.

The city brought suit against the railroad company for damages occasioned by the construction of Lake Halbert, city reservoir, on Elm Creek. The city

DOLLAR RECOVERY CONTINUED AFTER HOURS OF CLOSING

SHORT COVERING ACCOUNT DEVELOPMENTS PENDING SAID BE CAUSE

LONDON, June 29.—(P)—The recovery of the United States dollar, which started late today in regular trading, continued sharply after hours, the quotation going to $4.24 to the pound, compared with an overnight of $4.38 1-4, or an improvement of 14-16 cents.

The movement was attributed to short covering resulting from the belief in market quarters here that important currency developments were pending.

The dollar was almost friendless most of the day and was subjected to short covering, resulting from the belief in market quarters here that important currency developments were pending.

Nervousness regarding gold currencies disappeared with the announcement that continental currencies will remain on the gold standard. Bear covering, supplemented by control support, held the franc, mark and gulder steady around yesterday's level.

CLAREMORE, Okla., June 29.—(P)—The bodies of Mrs. Hazel Michaels, wife of Ed Michaels, cattle farmer, and two children, a son, 9, and a daughter, 10, were found in Lake Cateale in Northern Rogers county today.

The mother left a nine-months-old baby.

NINETY-NINE PERCENT OF NAVARRO COUNTY FARMERS TO SIGN COTTON CONTRACTS

Indications that more than 99 per cent of Navarro county's farmers will avail themselves of the government's offer to pay them for retired cotton acreage was expressed today by C. C. Morris, county farm demonstration agent, in charge of the office, who reported on a number of meetings held yesterday and last night in the county, and who has contacted practically every community since the plan was introduced.

"I am exceedingly pleased with the smooth way the plan is being put into effect in the county, and appreciate the co-operation of the farmers in waiting for the committees to come and inspect their lands, before signing their contracts," the agent declared. "I promise that every farmer in the county will be visited by an inspector, and every one of them will have the opportunity to participate in the cotton acreage reduction movement," he continued.

Plan Meets Favor. "I anticipate the probability of some farmers over-estimating the yield on their farms, but believe when they are informed that over-estimating their crop will hinder the movement, they will be satisfied to make a conservative estimate," Mr. Morris went on.

Queried by a Daily Sun Reporter concerning the percentage of Navarro county farmers willing to co-operate with the government, Mr. Morris said: "I am sure that 99 per cent of the Navarro county farmers will co-operate with the government in reducing their cotton acreage, and I further believe that a large part of the farmers will co-operate in the plan, on account of unavoidable problems, such as their landlords being away, and not available to sign up their tenants."

The county demonstration agent explained that he does not fear the plan being hindered on account of over-estimation of the field, because before a contract is signed, an inspector visits the farm, and they together come to an agreement on the possible yield, taking into consideration last year's amount, or an average over the past five years. In this connection the local headquarters received the following message this morning:

The president made it clear, however, that American offers for disarmament are not to be withdrawn.

TORRID WEATHER STILL PREVAILS; RELIEF PROMISED

FIFTEEN DEATHS RESULT PRESENT UNSEASONABLE TEMPERATURES

By The Associated Press. Another record breaking day of the hottest June weather many sections of the nation have ever known was followed today by promises of relief to some middle western states while the weather man told others it would be warmer.

Rains which fell yesterday sent the temperature tumbling to 77 from a peak of 99 for an all-time June 28 at Detroit. But, at Indianapolis thunderstorms brought only temporary relief and pavements were bursting under a heat of 96 degrees.

Thunderstorms in central Kentucky caused considerable damage to farm buildings and transmission lines. Eastern North Dakota was cooled off by rain and at Fargo and Grand Forks it was 71 last night after a high of 92. But in the twin cities of St. Paul and Minneapolis it was 84 at midnight.

U. G. Pursell, government meteorologist at Minneapolis, said he believed the torrid wave could be blamed on a south Atlantic high pressure area that was blown inland. He said a cool area was forming over Northwestern Canada and might bring definite relief by the end of the week.

Latest totals on heat deaths gave seven for Michigan, two of them by lightning; six for Ohio, and two for Indiana.

BRITISH COMPROMISE PLAN THROWN OUT BY EUROPEAN

RESPONSIBILITY FOR OUTSTABILIZATION OF CURRENCY UP TO AMERICA

LONDON, June 29.—(P)—An eagerly-awaited British compromise plan for solution of the stabilization crisis of the world economy conference, was thrown outboard in a meeting last evening with European bloc countries, and responsibility for a way out was laid on Washington's doorstep.

The British and the representatives of the gold bloc decided to appeal to Washington for assistance in overcoming the stabilization problem.

The British compromise had been offered to meet a ultimatum by the gold standard nations, headed by France, which demanded currency stabilization as the price of their remaining in the conference.

Prior to the meeting between the British and the gold bloc there was a lengthy conference of British leaders to discuss the compromise plan offered by the Minister Ramsey MacDonald, the details of which were not disclosed.

The British conference was led by Raymond Moley, American assistant secretary of state, and James P. Warburg, financial adviser to the American government. What part, if any, played, was kept a secret.

When Mr. Moley departed said he had merely taken the opportunity to shake hands with Mr. MacDonald. Mr. Warburg was non-committal.

It was understood that the discussion of the compromise by the French and the representatives of the gold bloc was a success.

Chicago Band Gang Shot Man; Beat

CHICAGO, June 29.—(P)—A band gang that has been terrorizing visitors in Chicago, chased a Texan and his wife, attempted to elude them, shot a husband in the leg, beat a woman, and robbed her of $100.

The victims are Leo Dickey, and Mrs. Elizabeth Dickey, Fairbury, Texas.

Police took them to the county hospital where physicians said their injuries were painful but not serious.

Dickey told police the five bandits attempted to curb his wife as she and his wife were driving to the home in Fairbury, he said, a chase began with the gunmen overtaking a few blocks away.

As they drew to a stop, he saw one of the bandits draw a revolver and deliberately shot him in the leg. Then he said two men beat him and his wife over the head until they were dazed. Before leaving the scene one of the gunmen relieved Dickey of his money.

TWO MISSOURI COUNTIES ARE DELUGED BY CLOUDBURST AT EARLY HOUR; DAMAGE GREAT

HURDLAND, Mo., June 29.—(P)—A cloudburst deluged two north-east Missouri counties early today, washing out track of three railroads, inundating thousands of acres, and isolating Hurdland, Branshear, and Edina, small country towns. The downpour broke a drought of weeks.

The brunt of the deluge which set new rainfall records as high as 8.37 inches, fell on the towns, washing out 1500 feet of track on the main line of the Santa Fe near Kenwood, a quarter of a mile of Wabash track near Kirksville, and a portion of Burlington track near Edina. A bridge on the Quincy, Omaha and Kansas City railroad was also wrecked.

The gap in the Santa Fe track delayed a train bearing Henry A. Wallace, secretary of agriculture to Chicago. The secretary was placed on a Burlington train and rerouted through Quincy, Ill., and Fort Madison, Ia.

Highway workers were caught by flood waters of the downpour near Edina and took refuge on the top rail of a highway bridge until a rescuer in a bridge through a swift current.

A number of communities reported loss of cattle and sheep, and some crops were damaged, although the drought parched farms drank up nearly all of the heavy rain by lightning; six for Ohio, and two for Indiana.

SCHOLAR'S SPADE VINDICATES FAMOUS SOLDIER'S RECORD

Archaeologists Uncover Ancient Jericho, And Prove Truth of Story of Joshua's Victory—The Character and Career of Successor of Moses.

BY WILLIAM T. ELLIS.

Although the news has been carried in meagre cablegrams the status fact has not yet penetrated to public consciousness that the excavations in the Jordan valley have proved completely the historicity of the fall of Jericho before the army of Joshua.

There are still current books which contain the story of the fall of Jericho, but the type of man, devised by early Jewish writers, and that the conquest of Jericho is only a fairy tale, meant for pious use. In the name of the scholar, the character of the conqueror has been used to explain away the historical character of the early books of the Bible. Had they even a modicum of newspaper man's appreciation of facts, they would understand that the archaeologist's spade has sensationalized the accuracy of the Old Testament records.

Dr. J. Garstang, who had already established his fame as the world's foremost authority upon the Hittites, has been excavating the site of old Jericho. The results of his finds read like a fairy tale. He discovered the city, destroyed as the Bible said, with its walls tumbled down. And, by means of the dated scarabs and pottery which he uncovered, he has proved that the city fell at the time the Bible said it fell. He has demonstrated that Joshua was as real as Alexander the Great.

Other diggers, at other sites, swing into line in full confirmation. The conquest of Canaan is now to be accepted as a historical fact, attested by extra-Scriptural sources such, for instance, as the famous Tell el-Fara excavations.

For the next three months the Sunday Schools will be studying the lives of some early leaders of Israel. Last year there was a course in the first five books of the Bible; now the present series, takes up the record where this left off, and by a collection of brief biographies, one character to Lesson, presents the subsequent history of Israel. The first, naturally, is Joshua, whom Moses, dying on Mt. Nebo, had appointed as his successor. In one Lesson can be barely glimpse his greatness.

No small task was that which confronted Joshua, and his now-disciplined hosts of Hebrews. The Israelites, presents the subsequent history of Israel. The first, naturally, is Joshua, whom Moses, dying on Mt. Nebo, had appointed as his successor. In one Lesson can be barely glimpse his greatness.

FERGUSON FAILED GET CHAIRMANSHIP WET CONVENTION

WARNED HE COULD NOT HOLD PLACE; ELECT C. C. McDONALD

GREGORY MEMORIAL GYMNASIUM, AUSTIN, June 27. (P)—C. C. McDonald of Wichita Falls was elected permanent chairman of the anti-prohibition convention today.

McDonald was elected by acclamation after former Governor James E. Ferguson withdrew his candidacy.

John Henry Kirby of Houston also withdrew.

Ferguson personally withdrew his name and nominated McDonald. McDonald withdrew his name and urged Ferguson to take the place.

Temporary Chairman B. Y. Cummings put the question and declared McDonald elected.

Ferguson withdrew after a fight had been made upon his eligibility by Congressman Joseph Weldon Bailey and others.

They claimed he was ineligible to hold an office of "honor, trust or profit" because of his impeachment as governor in 1917.

Others claimed to make Ferguson chairman of the convention would please the prohibitionists and that too much controversy would revolve around him.

Ferguson asked that C. C. McDonald of Wichita Falls be made chairman, but McDonald refused to accept.

"I want Jim Ferguson to have this honor," McDonald shouted.

"The big convention stood and cheered."

"We want Jim," we want Jim," they shouted.

Senator W. K. Hopkins of Gonzales pleaded with the convention to elect John Henry Kirby of Houston.

By R. W. BARRY Associated Press Writer GREGORY MEMORIAL GYMNASIUM, Austin, June 27. (P)—Anti-prohibitionists started occupation of their convention hall early.

It was the first time the University of Texas ever had taken the site of a political convention.

There was contention over the permanent chairmanship of the convention. Former Governor James E. Ferguson was the choice of one faction and John M. Mathis of Houston was the champion of another group.

"Mathis for permanent chairman," was the inscription on a large banner flung from one of the balconies.

Former Governor Ferguson came in fifteen minutes before opening time. He was accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. George Nalle, her husband, and friends Governor Miriam A. Ferguson was not with her husband. There was a ripple of applause when Mr. Ferguson entered. He took a chair on the front row of the stage.

Reports that the hall were that Mathis would withdraw his candidacy and nominate John Henry Kirby of Houston for permanent chairman.

Joseph Weldon Bailey, Jr., of Dallas, congressman-at-large, was near the stage. His father, the late former Texas senator, was seated in the balcony.

Eugene Smith, friends of the Fergusons, said the woman governor would stay in the apartment and "run the office" while her husband participated in the convention.

B. Y. Cummings of Fort Worth, chosen temporary chairman, was delayed in calling the convention to order.

Episcopal Henry T. Moore of Dallas offered the invocation. His is the Episcopal church.

John Maddox of Travis county was appointed temporary secretary.

Lon Messer of Nueces county was named temporary sergeant-at-arms.

Cummings explained the law that set up the convention.

Cummings has been long active in Texas politics and is an "old timer" in conventions.

He said he appreciated his appointment as temporary chairman more because it came from Governor Ferguson than if it had been made by any other executive.

His keynote speech denouncing prohibition as a failure was cheered. He said he felt Texans on more because it came from Governor Ferguson than if it had been made by any other executive.

SENATOR SHEPPARD SAYS REPEAL WOULD DISCREDIT NATION

STATE CAMPAIGN AGAINST PROHIBITION REPEAL IS OPENED IN AUSTIN

AUSTIN, June 27. (P)—Morris Sheppard, senior United States senator from Texas, today opened this state's campaign against repeal of the eighteenth amendment with the declaration that to scrap national prohibition "would make this country the jest and sport of all mankind."

Senator Sheppard was the temporary chairman and keynote of the convention of prohibitionists which gathered in the Texas hall of representatives to nominate a slate of candidates for delegates to Texas repeal convention of November 24 when this state's formal vote on repeal will be cast.

He also urged defeat of a proposal to modify the Texas constitution to permit the sale of 3.2 per cent beer. Both propositions will be submitted in a special election on August 26.

Senator Sheppard, one of the authors of the eighteenth amendment, said "the only way successfully to handle the liquor traffic is to destroy it."

Justified Retention. "The only way to destroy it is through the maintenance of national prohibition," he expressed in the 18th amendment, "he told the convention. 'It will not do to say that the 18th amendment should be repealed because it has not entirely destroyed the liquor traffic in the short space of 15 years. The progress the 18th amendment has made in that direction more than justifies its retention. To say that it should be repealed is to say that society cannot preserve itself, a self evident absurdity. The remedy for the situation is not less prohibition, but more prohibition. The proposed 21st amendment on which we are to vote on August 26 calls for the repeal of the 18th amendment and then provides that intoxicating liquors shall not be imported or transported into dry states. The proponents of the 21st amendment know that this last provision will be ineffective, that legislation along similar lines under the interstate commerce clause that once legalized in any part of the union the liquor traffic will engulf and overflow every other part. Let no one be deceived by this pretended solicitude for the rights of dry states."

Necessary to Fight. Senator Sheppard said the "return of beer and the submission to the states of the question of repealing the 18th amendment make it necessary to press with added energy and determination the fight on beverages alcohol."

A new generation has come upon the scene since the advent of national prohibition, a generation unfamiliar from the standpoint of furnish the corpse at a funeral in behalf of our cause."

Second McDonald. Kirby asked his name be withdrawn and he seconded McDonald's nomination and asked he be accepted by acclamation.

Friends gathered around Ferguson, still sitting off the stage in the audience. Temporary Chairman Cummings left the rostrum and conferred with Ferguson.

P. L. Anderson of San Antonio had moved that nominations be closed.

Cummings then rushed to the rostrum and declared: "All in favor of Charlie McDonald being permanent chairman of this convention, please stand."

Every one stood and McDonald was declared elected.

Ferguson introduced McDonald to the convention.

"What's all this trouble about anyhow?" he asked.

REMINISCENCE
They'll be reading later on when these troubled days are gone
What we did and how we managed in our days of stress and doubt.
Men grown old and silver gray will be called upon to say
How we faced our difficulty; how we worked our problems out.

Just the other night I heard one recall what had occurred
Through the progress of his service and the journey of his years.
And he talked of trying days, when the future seemed a maze
Of despair and disappointment and a wilderness of fears.

"Yet to us, somehow," he said, "we still kept our eyes ahead."
Kept our faith in one another and the panic came and went
And we saw our city grow, to the splendor which we know
And we learned through bleak disaster just what courage really meant."

As I listened there I seemed to behold as one who occurred
The youngest at the table five and twenty years away
Standing head erect and true naming men courageous who kept their faith and bravely mettered all the problems of today.

HOME AND YOUTH.

As long ago as the publication of "This Side of Paradise" an effort was made to convince parents that they had unaccountably hatched a generation of ugly ducklings. Since then flaming youth has amassed an ever more flaming reputation; every father has wondered how other fathers could produce such sons and rejoice that his own sons were, if not above suspicion, at least up to the level of his own generation.

The technique of the parent and child relationship has stood amazingly well the heavy strain of a rapidly transitional period; and now, this being a time in which there are literatures upon every question, a literature has begun to appear upon this most important problem.

"There is one thing worse than children being afraid of their parents; and that is parents being afraid of their children," writes the author of a manual on the delicate tact of parenthood.

"I hate the young, they absorb you and suck you dry and are selfish brutes at best," complains a third.

It is all a part of the trend. The age of Maria Edgeworth is already fading into the age of moral tales for parents. Youth will chorus that parents need them. Fathers are confident that they are still more than a biological necessity. Both are doubtless right. The best transitions leave the world annoyingly like what it used to be.

Statesmen, educators, penologists, opponents of shoddiness, buncomb, stupidities, and wastefulness in life have followed the trail down through all kinds of reform, lawmakings, institutional improvements, and social services, only to find it ending at last in the home. And the home is the least susceptible to improvement.

HIGH COST OF BAD HEALTH

Louis I. Dublin, health statistician, asserts that the total economic value of human beings in the United States—of their revenue-producing value—is about 1,500 billion dollars, as opposed to all material and animal wealth in the country of 321 billion dollars.

He asserts that the economic loss by preventable deaths is 6 billion dollars yearly, while 2-13 billion are lost through illness sufficient to incapacitate the sick from working.

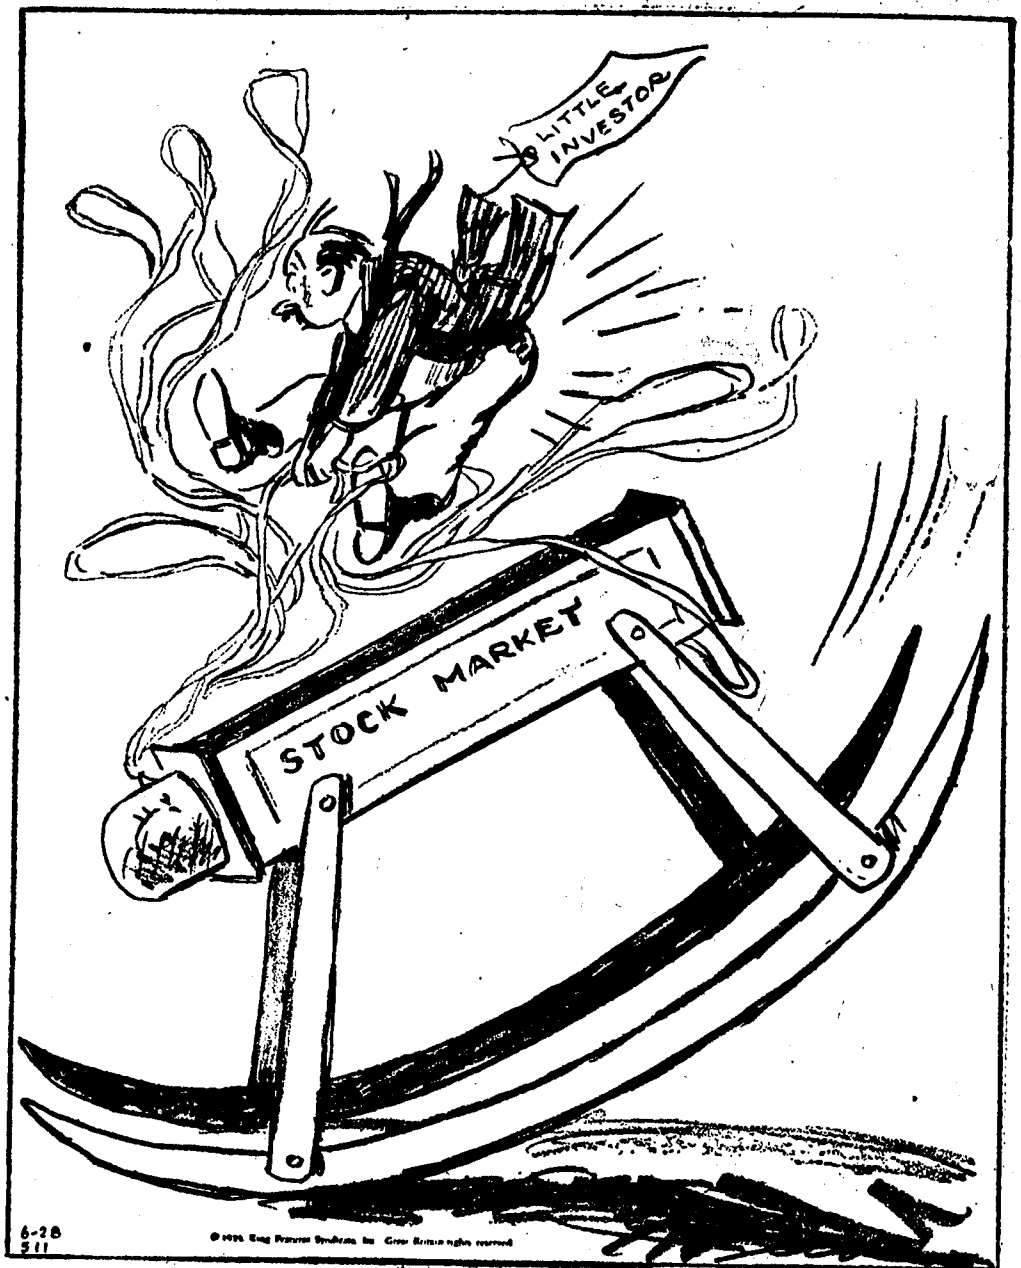

It is clear, without raising the question of humanity, much less sentimentality, that public money spent for health protection and education will be repaid many times over by reducing unnecessary deaths and sickness.

Stalin has struck a snag. He planned to kill all the rich people, and now the fellow with a whole loaf of bread seems rich.

That beer is intoxicating seems the unanimous opinion of those who never tasted the nasty stuff.

PLAYING HORSIE AGAIN

—By Clive Wood

GUARD APPROPRIATION CUT.

How many real soldiers there are in the National Guard the country stands to find out during the approaching payless days to the guardsmen. Those who soldier for the love of soldiering and out of concern for the national defense will accept federal economy as just another vicissitude of campaigning. The sort who are in the guard for the money there is in it will not be so anxious to re-enlist.

By reducing its allowances to the state guard units the federal government has restored the guard to very nearly its status before its more complete federalization. Guardsmen have not altered ways been paid for drilling and for their days in training camp, and they have paid for their own camp costs at times when it was just as great a hardship as now.

The federal government cut its appropriation to the national guard, not for the purpose of curtailing this factor in the national defense, but out of fiscal necessity. There is no intention to all outward appearances, to reduce the size of the guard. And yet this is a part of the whole question whether the national defense should be measured by the amount of money available for them.

Is a continuing, consistent policy with regard to the national defense to be enforced no matter how scarce the money or how much the nation needs it for other purposes? Or can the nation safely let down on its protections at a time when its real or imaginary enemies are in no better position to attack than the United States is to defend?

MAN-MADE "LISTS."

Ever since his creation man has been trying to improve upon nature. History does not record a time when man found his own species all to his liking. So he has been most critical of himself and ever watchful for ways of self-improvement.

His favorite device for improvement is the list—the list of virtues, the list of vices, the list of laws, the list of commandments, the list of thou-shalt-nots.

That of Moses was not the first. Countless religions and civilizations before his time resorted to the same method. And they have been doing it ever since.

Benjamin Franklin, an individualist in all things, had his own list. He would strive to observe one virtue for a week, another the next, un-

BOYCOTT THREATENED

Now Japanese spinners are threatening to boycott Indian cotton in retaliation for the action of the British government in canceling the Indo-China trade agreement as preliminary to increasing tariffs on Japanese cloth.

The Tokyo government has given no endorsement to the proposal. The foreign office says if the spinners carry out their threat it will be without the government's consent. But will the government take any steps to prevent it? Apparently not.

The Chinese boycotted Japanese goods because they believed Japan was pursuing an unjust policy toward their country. The Japanese spinners are threatening action against Indian cotton because they think the British government has acted unjustly.

Should the boycott threat be carried out, would Japan consider Great Britain justified in sending any army into Japan and seizing part of the latter? Hardly. Yet, the British would be doing what the Japanese are doing in China.

He had run through his list when he would begin from the first again. In some he succeeded, in others he confessed failure.

So there is nothing new in the list prepared by a minister for the general assembly of his church, except that he has added a few modern "sins" to the accumulated breaches of the ages.

This matter of intellectual and moral self-improvement is an eternal job. But even though it is futile, it is wise for uplifters and improvers to remind us so often of our delinquencies and retrogressions? A world that is getting worse and that its transgressions and sins are multiplying is likely to abandon all hope of ever improving itself.

Senators are old, and age is conservative, but alas, an old motor expends most of its energy knocking itself.

Wouldn't it save time to hold an election and decide which group of us is to reform the rest of us?

The honeymoon is over when she says: "Do you love me, darling?" and he answers, "Sure, Mike."

Brisbane's don't-sell America-short was sound advice but he gave it four years too soon.

NEW BLOW TO KIDNAPING.

Good police work was represented in the quick arrest of supposed members of the kidnaping gang that abducted the daughter of the business manager of Kansas City and held her until a $30,000 ransom was paid.

Six suspects were taken into custody. These and two others, still sought, have been indicted by a federal grand jury. Two of those held have made confessions, which the authorities believe solve the crime.

Two things remain to make this case a blow to crime that will be felt throughout the underworld: prompt trial and infliction of the extreme penalty upon those convicted.

The kidnaping industry flourished for a while and seemed to have things largely its own way. But the tables are now being turned. A recent case in the East and the Missouri case indicate the authorities are beginning to find ways of coping with the situation.

OLD CARS A PERIL.

There is little surprise in the finding of the Travelers Insurance company that the number of automobiles with defective brakes, tires, lights or steering mechanism in fatal accidents increased 40 per cent during the first four months of the present year.

The insurance company based its conclusion on an examination of automobile fatality figures covering this period.

The situation, of course, reflects one of many phases of the depression. Persons unable to buy new cars have continued to operate their old ones and without having needed repairs made. The insurance company's figures showed an increase of 29 per cent in the number of cars with defective brakes involved in accidents causing one or more deaths, 33 per cent in the number of those having wornout tires, 60 per cent in the number with defective lights and 25 per cent in those whose steering mechanism was faulty.

There are signs that replacement of old cars is beginning to be made, but it will be a good while before the process is completed.

But after the government takes enough to balance the budget, how are the rest of us to budget the balance?

The heroes of a republic are those who served and saved it in spite of all the people could do.

CHAMBER COMMERCE TO AID EVERY WAY IN COTTON PROGRAM

Directors of the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce Tuesday morning voted to give the service of Wm. O. Harwell and the entire personnel of the organization to the work of the cotton acreage retirement plan under the direction of C. C. Morris, county agent until the rush is over, agreed to attend the community meetings as speakers, were advised that indications pointed to the early beginning of the construction of Highway 22 through Navarro county, made plans to aid in the state campaign for funds to secure a Texas exhibit at the Century of Progress in Chicago, and authorized Manager Harwell to attend the Southwest Chamber of Commerce school in Dallas, July 24-28.

County Agent Morris reported there were between 400 and 500 farmers at the acreage retirement meeting in Frost Monday night and that there was not a dissenting voice heard on the proposed cotton acreage reduction as outlined by the Federal government. He said his office was swamped with interested farmers and that all indications pointed to the fact that "Navarro county was rearing to go as strong as possible" for the reduction.

Mr. Morris reported that ample blank contracts had been received a this office, and outlined the necessity of daily reports to be made to Texas A. and M. College, speakers, etc.

The directors voted unanimously to allow the personnel of the organization to be used during the rush of the work. The directors also voted additional help if necessary. The motion was made by J. N. Edens and was seconded by A. F. Mitchell. Ted B. Ferguson is in charge of the speakers bureau.

I. N. Cerf, president of the State National Bank, advised Mr. Morris and the directors that in the event those in charge with the aid in the filling out of the contracts, etc., were rushed to send them, his bank would be glad to give them the necessary assistance.

The directors volunteered to go into the various communities as speakers and plan to attend the school whereby the contracts, etc., will be thoroughly discussed and explained.

Manager Harwell reported on the recent East Texas Chamber of Commerce meeting here. President C. C. Roberts said he would appoint a committee to investigate projects whereby Corsicana might be benefited in the $200,000,000 federal appropriations.

A. F. Mitchell, Mr. Harwell and Mr. Edens reported on the trip to Austin in the interest of Highway 22, urging the early completion of the project through Navarro county.

It was brought out in the reports that the members of the highway commission declared there was no more important road project in Texas than Highway 22 between Corsicana and Hillsboro.

M. L. Bowers, resident state highway engineer, was authorized to send all his plans and specifications on dirt and drainage structures within the county to the divisional state highway engineer's office in Dallas.

Richland Sluggers Defeated Buffalo

RICHLAND, June 27.—(Sp.)—The strong Buffalo team took a severe drubbing here today when the hands of the Richland Independents to the tune of 12-2. Wiggins was responsible for both of Buffalo's tallies, by driving Craig in with a triple in the fourth and socking the ball for a four-run hit in the seventh. Trawack, Richland's ace pitcher, struck out 10 men, figured in a double play, knocked a home run and a single and took a free pass to first base from both Coleman and Craig. The Richland nine had a perfect day in the field, gathered a total of nine blows, and again showed their ability to take advantage of the opponent's mistakes.

ATTORNEY GENERAL CUMMINGS PLANS FOR CUT IN PRO FORCES

WASHINGTON, June 27.—(AP)—Attorney General Cummings announced today that more than 1,300 employees of the prohibition bureau will be furloughed or dismissed June 30 to save $4,000,000 in the coming fiscal year.

Among the employees to be dropped, the attorney general said, are administrative, stenographers, typists, clerks.

The attorney general's announcement said "the last session of congress appropriated $3,800,000 for the purpose of carrying on prohibition enforcement but under the plan of reorganization contemplated for the prohibition bureau, director of the budget, Mr. Douglas ordered a saving of $4,000,000 to be made."

WASHINGTON, June 27.—(AP)—Attorney General Cummings is reorganizing prohibition forces with the intention of spending in the new financial year only half the $8,000,000 congress made available.

His plan likely will cut in about half the nearly 2500 men and women employed under the prohibition bureau. Some will be furloughed, some discharged. Cummings hopes to have the new lineup completed by the time the present fiscal year ends at midnight Friday.

Already, at the recommendation of A. V. Dalrymple, prohibition problems in Hawaii, Puerto Rico and Alaska in the hands of the United States marshals in those areas. It also took Texas and Louisiana out of the fifth district and put them into a new third district.

Headquarters of the fifth and ninth districts were not announced. Houston was being considered for the latter and Birmingham, Mobile and Montgomery for the former.

LEADERS ON EACH SIDE OF REPEAL QUESTION TO SPEAK JULY 4 HERE

Jim Ferguson - Frank debate was a joke once and the show that Maury and Norris are going to be as our picnic on Fourth of July. George F. Baum, Johnson-Wiggins Post No. 1, American Legion, said this morning in outlining the celebration to be at the Legion grounds here.

Heading the list will be two addresses by J. Frank Norris, Fundamentalist preacher and publisher, of Port Worth, and Maury Hughes, state democratic chairman, Dallas, whose subjects will be for and against the repeal of the Eighteenth amendment. Several thousand circulars advertising the event have been printed and distributed in every town in the county, and in surrounding counties, within a radius of 50 miles. Post Commander Baum said, and indications are that thousands of people will attend the picnic.

A barbecue dinner will be served, and entertainment features will be in progress during the entire day and night. A loving cup will be given the chorus winning the class singing contest, and no classes will be barred. Joel C. Trimble will direct the State Home band in concerts during the day, and a dash in the clubhouse at 8 o'clock will close the day's activities. Terrapin races and numerous other types of entertainment will provide something for the entire family, according to Post Commander Baum.

Market News Service To Be Curtailed

WASHINGTON, June 28.—(AP)—The market news service of the department of agriculture is to be continued on a sharply curtailed basis instead of abolished as at first planned by Secretary Wallace. The service would have been cut out to save $1,300,000, but plans now are to operate about 30 temporary stations in important producing sections to place the service within reach of growers and shippers. During the past year 42 offices of the kind were maintained. Financial aid from state and local agencies "will be expected in carrying on this part of the service," the department said.

DALLAS, June 28.—(AP)—Ned Draughan, 6, was injured critically today when he apparently fell from the window of an inbound passenger train just north of Dallas. Railroad searching parties found him and he was transferred to a hospital in an ambulance. The child, traveling with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Employees of the line then manned a motor car and started north, locating him near the right-of-way.

Cotton Factor Is Opposed to Plowing Up Part Acreage

MEXIA, June 28.—(Spl.)—Speaking before the Mexia Lions Club in a luncheon Tuesday at noon Mike H. Thomas of Dallas, cotton factor, denounced the government's plan to plow up one-third of the cotton crop, predicting that the price of cotton would go beyond all reason. His was the first expression here against the cotton scheme.

LOCKHART MINISTER DOING PREACHING AT TENT REVIVAL NOW

"But We Would See Jesus," was the sermon text of Rev. M. Hinkle, pastor of the First Baptist church of Lockhart, who will speak twice daily at the big tent revival on South Fifteenth street. The one great need of the present time, said the evangelist, is a vision of Christ Jesus, who would solve every problem known to the human mind. The chaotic condition that sweeps around the world might be dispelled by one sight of the Prince of Peace. Jesus was the one great glorious view of every sacrifice placed upon the altars from the days of Ahab to the eventual coming of the man of Galilee, said the speaker.

We would see Jesus is the cry of the soul when the clouds of sorrow overshadow us. He is the rainbow on the cloud that hangs over the pilgrim's head, and the author of peace on the storm tossed sea when our frail bark threatens to go down in despair. The message was well received and the interest continues to increase. Rev. Hinkle will speak each morning at 9 o'clock in the big tent and at 8 o'clock in the evening. Rev. Hinkle is one of the outstanding pastors of the state, a gospel preacher and expositor of the word. Pastor Glenn extends an invitation to his many friends to hear this mighty preacher. There have been 35 additions to the church up to and including the services last night. You will keep cool in the big tent.

YALE PROFESSOR BACKS ROOSEVELT MONETARY PLANS

CHICAGO, June 28.—(AP)—Prof. Irving Fisher, of Yale University, told the American association for the advancement of science today that the best and quickest way for the country to regain economic equilibrium was through the government's monetary refutation program.

Prof. Fisher contended that the economic recession, like most others in the past, was caused by too much debt which, by "distress selling" and liquidating bank loans—thereby using up much of the deposit currency of the country—led to deflation of the price level. This deflation, he said, proceeded faster than the liquidation which was responsible for it. The result, Prof. Fisher said, was that the debt, while nominally reduced, was really increased, as measured in commodities.

As the number of dollars owed decreased, he said, the value of each dollar owed increased faster, the effort to alleviate the debt burden thus actually making it heavier. If the remedy for the situation were sought through further liquidation, Prof. Fisher said, the "depression would not end until bankruptcy and unemployment were well nigh universal."

"Refutation, such as approved by President Roosevelt," Prof. Fisher said, was the best way and the quickest way toward economic stability.

SOVIETS CONTINUE SEARCH FOR MATTERN IN SIBERIAN AREA

KHABAROVSK, Siberia, June 28.—(AP)—Soviet guards and sailors continued to search for Jimmie Mattern north of here today, but the belief grew the American Aviator had been forced down south-west of Khabarovsk, whence he took off for Alaska, June 15. Aviation experts believe the Texan had not reached the Aleutian islands and that he could have crashed near Okhotsk Sea because the visibility was good when he left here to continue his projected world flight. He carried a rifle, ammunition, and fishing tackle, so if he were forced down on a remote island safely he could easily survive for a long time, they said.

There have been 35 additions to the church up to and including the services last night. You will keep cool in the big tent.

Two Paid Fines On Charge of Alleged Theft City Water

Two men paid fines in corporation court Wednesday in the sum of $5 each for alleged theft of water from the city mains. Complaints were filed after investigations by City Engineer W. W. McClendon and other city officials and it was intimated Wednesday afternoon that there would probably be other arrests within the immediate future.

One of the men is alleged to have constructed a by-pass about the meter at his residence, allowing the water to go into his pipes without being registered through the meter. The other man is reported to have had his meter taken out several months ago and then connected his pipes with the city mains, Mr. McClendon reported. Investigations are continuing by water department operatives as it is thought there are others tampering with the meters, etc., it was stated.

VARIED PROGRAM AT A. AND M. SHORT COURSE THIS YEAR

LARGE PART OF TIME TO BE DEVOTED TO ACTUAL PRACTICE THEORIES

Varying somewhat from previous types of programs, this year's course of study and work at the twenty-fourth annual short course at Texas A. and M. College, July 1 to 10, will be devoted to actual practice theories.

From 9:30 until 12 noon each morning are scheduled subject matter talks and discussions in a wide variety of rural fields, including home making, dairying, poultry raising, livestock production, farm crops, farm engineering, and fruit and truck raising. These correspond to the afternoon programs of previous years, and are designed to aid visitors grasp the fundamentals of production and management, and to prepare them for doing work in the afternoon.

After lunch, and lasting until nearly 5 p. m., visitors will engage in making things or in doing things of a practical nature such as home dairy manufacture, meat cutting and curing, tanning hides, grading cotton, making syrup, making grape juice, pickling and boning chickens, learning trench silo construction, controlling pests, making rugs, dyeing lamb skins, standardization of food products, grading fruit and truck products, installing garden sub-irrigation systems, and many others.

In addition to this, more intensive work is offered those who wish to go into more detail in several lines. These are courses in doing things rather than in doing things in the academic sense. Featuring these are tanning hides and making leather products, sargro syrup making, killing, cutting and curing meat, making cheese, and making butter.

There may be others, such as hand weaving of cloth and working timber into usable wood products by means of a portable saw mill.

AN "ACT OF GOD" HAS PUT PRICE OF WHEAT TO SOARING; MID-WEST FIELDS SCORCHING

(By The Associated Press)

An "act of God" concerned itself today with the price of wheat. Premier Bennett of Canada, at the world economic conference, used the phrase. He was commenting on the rise of wheat prices in America to a dollar and more a bushel, and he suggested it might be due to "an act of God, providence or maybe Roosevelt."

Whatever the cause or the combination of causes, the price of wheat has been soaring since a matter of anxiety to hundreds of millions of people. When the Canadian premier said "maybe Roosevelt," he undoubtedly had in mind the various measures the United States government has taken toward meeting this problem.

The government's concern, however, is merely the reflection of the deep interest of many groups of its citizens; the farmers, who in the wheat raising industry grow it as a profit; the millers, who use it as a raw material; the elevators, the dealer, the merchant, who sell it; and the consumers, who depend upon it for food.

The economists had said: "There is too much wheat." As though in answer, there have come upon the grain fields of Kansas, Nebraska, the Dakotas and Minnesota a scorching drought. Wheat has been destroyed, and by the hundreds of thousands of bushels.

Just how much damage has been done is not yet known. The government report for June, due about July 10, will afford the first accurate estimate.

It is in that situation that the farmer views the rise of the price of wheat from around 42 cents a bushel to a dollar and more a bushel. What good is it to him who has no wheat to sell?

Others, however, are rejoicing. To them the advance in the price means little in comparison to what it means to other groups. Grain traders, whose grasp is a plough, are immediately affected by such fluctuation. The revival of the wheat market is a boon to brokerage houses.

The "ultimate consumer" will be affected much more quickly than the farmer. Flour prices at Minneapolis were up half a dollar to $3.80 a barrel. Let that three months ago the price was $3.80.

Canadian wheat growers are able to appreciate the wheat price situation more than American growers, for on the basis of today's reports they have suffered no such drought losses at threaten farmers of the Middle Western states.

Entirely aside from the direct effect of the wheat price rise on international considerations, in distant Canberra, Australia, the government is mulling the question of restricted wheat acreage, as urged by the representatives of wheat growing countries are considering the possibility of wheat "dumping" on the market by countries (including the United States) with more wheat than they can use.

The "farm strike" idea still lives. The "farmers holiday association" will not cease its efforts. "I am an official yesterday," until assured through legislation of receiving the cost of production. There has been a lull during the busy farm season, and we are holding off to give the administration a chance to see what it can do.

The psychological effect of dollar inflation is widespread. What actual benefit dollar wheat holds for the man on the farm remains to be seen.

Senator Barkley (D. Ky.) said that the first thing to tell of "bear raid" on the market.

Investigation Suggested. WASHINGTON, June 29.—(AP)—Senator Charles McNabb, D-Mo., today called for an investigation of the "bear raid" on the market.

Senator McNabb said that the "bear raid" on the market was a "great service" if it would find a means to regulate speculation.

LUNCHEON CLUBS ADOPT RESOLUTIONS "NEW DEAL" PLAN

As we are all acquainted with the ravages of the outgoing economic disturbance and the time has come for action by our community to bring back early prosperity, and seeing the urgent need for a unified and co-operative understanding among ourselves in carrying out plans for a new deal in business affairs in general, and in order to take advantage of every opportunity that now confronts us which has been brought about by recent federal legislation, and in order to cash in on the new program for ourselves and community, and to demonstrate our interest and patriotism in such an emergency as now confronts us; therefore, be it

Resolved, That we pledge individually and collectively to give our wholehearted and enthusiastic support to President Roosevelt and the Federal government, our state, county and city in the "New Deal" recovery program now in the making. That we realize that such a program is the only way to bring back early prosperity; the success of the "New Deal" program as has already been definitely outlined by President Roosevelt being put up to us for immediate action.

That it is the utmost importance at this time that we work together with one objective in mind and that it so bring ourselves, our community, state and nation back to prosperity again, and take our stand to win the economic war we are now in just as we were determined to win the World War in 1917-1918.

That we all get in line and make a united front against just the doughboys of the World War made the drive for victory.

That we put into the "New Deal" program the very best that we have in us, including the proper initiative, leadership, energy, and patriotism.

That we, as American citizens, demonstrate without a doubt that we have all faltered in the past and must right about face in another direction if we expect to change in the future plans for early recovery.

That we pledge our fullest co-operation with our chamber of commerce, retail merchants, city, county, state and national agencies in carrying out the "New Deal" program for putting into effect that new deal program.

That we take advantage of every opportunity now confronting our city and community whereby we can do the best of the new program, and that there be appointed immediately a "community new deal committee," representative of all commercial and civic agencies of the community.

That the committee be organized in a similar capacity to the "war board" during the war days, this committee to co-operate fully with all agencies that will have in charge the putting over at the New Deal program.

SESSION CONFERENCE

GRAMS CALCULATED TO INTER NATIONAL GOOD WILL

BOSTON, June 29.—(P)—The 24th annual convention of Rotary International today by unanimous vote directed its officers to cable the world economic conference now sitting in London its "sifters" and anxious concern for success.

The 24th convention in session here since Monday has concerned itself to a large degree with programs calculated to foster international good will, promote better understanding between business men of the world and inculcate in individual Rotarians a greater concern for amity among all races.

By overwhelming vote the convention rejected two resolutions proposed by the Oklahoma City Rotary club looking to decentralization of Rotary government.

The first resolution would have empowered directors to appoint a committee to examine the entire question of decentralization.

Another would have allowed districts to elect their own officers.

HURDLAND, Mo., June 29.—(P)—A washout on the Santa Fe railroad's main line near Kennett, Mo., blocked all trains here today and delayed Santa Fe train No. 6, on which Secretary Wallace of the department of agriculture was en route to Chicago. A rainfall of unprecedented proportions had virtually isolated Hurdland and Brashear.

Sets Minimum Wage.
The code, for the present, is to set the minimum wage that industry may pay and fix the minimum hours that any employee may work, with possibly provision for overtime pay below cost of production to eliminate "sweat" conditions.

A statement is submitted to S. Johnson, the administrator, calls for a public hearing on the code, and the representatives of labor and industry are to be heard.

The law permits employees to organize any way they wish, and their employers are prohibited from interfering.

Johnson is aided, in considering the code, by three boards: industrialists, one of labor and the third representing the public.

SPORT NOTES

By PAUL MOORE — Sun Sports Editor

Allen Edens, local merchant and ardent football fan, has received a letter from Jake Hanna, former Tiger mentor, who is playing with the Shreveport Sports in the Dixie League. Hanna likes his new post and is hammering the ball at a lively rate. Hanna batted .350 in four trips to the plate. Jake is perhaps the leading hitter in the league at the present time with an impressive record of ten hits in sixteen times at bat, an average of .625. Whether Hanna's sensational hitting will continue after he has played around the circuit remains to be seen, but he is clouting the ball plenty hard in his professional debut.

The former Tiger mentor is a speed merchant and is a great defensive outfielder. Jake's legion of Corsicana friends are pulling for him.

Primo Carnera and Jack Sharkey, heavyweight boxing champions, met in their titular battle in New York tonight. There has been a noticeable change of sentiment among the sport critics in favor of the Italian man-mountain during the past few days. Sharkey, however, is a great battler when he is in the right mood. Carnera is a powerful, fast and quick for a man of his size. He is not the smartest boxer in the world by long odds, but he carries a tremendous will and should be able to catch Sharkey, or any other man, for that matter, right, it will be a knockout for the Italian.

Home run hitters Wednesday included Jenkins, Dallas; Lynch, Longview; Jones, Henderson; Manush, Washington; Fox, Philadelphia Athletics; Whitney, Boston Red Sox; Jurgens, Chicago Cubs; High, Cincinnati; Outen, Brooklyn; Wilson, Brooklyn; Ruth, New York Yankees; O'Doul, New York Giants; Suhr, Pittsburgh; 2; Ott, New York Giants; Critz, New York Yankees.

Manager Joe Cantrell of Longview went to the mound Wednesday and held Henderson, 3-5, though he allowed thirteen hits.

Manush, outfielder, led the Washington Senators in their 10-2 victory over the Cleveland club when he hit a home run, two-bagger and a pair of singles. He batted in five runs.

Pursley's 16-1 win last week over the Spring Hill contingent, coupled with a loss by Purdon at the hands of Silver City, 3-2, sent the Pursley standards back into the lead in the Home League this week. Pursley and Purdon are far out in the lead, although Corbet is playing a highly improved game as compared with the early season form.

BELIEVE TEXARKANA MAN SLAIN BECAUSE HE KNEW ABOUT CRIME

TEXARKANA, Ark., June 29.—(P)—The theory that P. A. McSwain might have been slain because he knew too much about a burglary was studied today by officers.

The body of McSwain, 37-year-old lunch room proprietor, was found late yesterday in a closet of the house where he roomed. He had been slain with a shotgun, which was found leaning against the door of the closet.

A note found in McSwain's clothing said if officers would go to a certain address they would find property stolen in the burglary of a grocery store located across the street from McSwain's lunch stand.

Officers rearrested a man who previously had been detained in connection with the burglary but who had been released for lack of evidence to link him definitely with it.

WORLD PEACE

Davis said Mr. Roosevelt's plea for peace and his offer for a non-aggressive pact had made a "tremendous effect over there."

"Europe had made up its mind," he said, "that it is to be either peace or chaos. This is the greatest progress. Public opinion is developing for disarmament. The people are still a little nervous and we must have a little more to settle some of the political problems."

The future rested to a great extent he said, on stabilization of the German government.

Conference Adjourns

GENEVA, June 29.—(P)—The world disarmament conference was adjourned until Oct. 10 today despite a protest by Rudolph Naddolny, Chancellor Hitler's representative, that the long recess amounted to a first-class funeral for disarmament.

The German representative declared the public would be disillusioned by the adjournment and asserted the plan to hold private conversations between now and October was useless.

He was supported by the Hungarian representative, Rene Maszigi for France repudiated the charge that adjournment meant the death of disarmament, saying everything depended on whether the governments participated in private conversations in a spirit of collaboration and peace.

"MUTUAL CONSENT" DIVORCE PLAN GETS HEATED OPPOSITION

CHICAGO, June 29.—(P)—Plans of two Protestant churches arose in union today to voice objections to a plan of "mutual consent" for divorce proposed by Prof. Charles R. Metzger, of the University, before the National Science.

"This is the year of the Council of Progress," said Bishop George Craig Stewart of the Episcopal Church, "and surely we are going to revert to primitive customs upon the threats of those who have no religion."

"Marriage should be looked on as a permanent state rather than a mere convenience," said Bishop E. L. Waldorf of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

Both prelates were emphatic in their complete denunciation of Prof. Metzger's idea that divorce upon a plea of mutual consent with a six months' interim before granting of the decree—would perjure and subvert the divorce courts and make for happier lives afterward.

"Under such a plan," said Bishop Stewart, "marriage would degenerate into an agreement between two parties to keep house together. The fundamental idea that when two persons are bound in wedlock they become one, would be destroyed."
